

Video Transcript: No Bake Oatmeal Cookies

With Jordan Ragasa

[Music Playing]

Hi everyone... my name is Jordan.

And today we are in Down to Earth's beautiful Community Kitchen...

And today we are making these delicious no bake protein-packed oatmeal cookies

That are kid-friendly and so easy to make...

Into our mixing bowl... we are going to add some of this freshly ground peanut butter.

From our Down to Earth Store...

We're also going to add... of course...

Some Oatmeal to our Oatmeal cookies.

And for our sweetener, we are going to use Maple syrup...

If you have any suggestions for other sweeteners you can use... go ahead and comment below...

We're also going to add some raisins...

Mmmm... that's going in there.

Little bit of Vegan chocolate chips...

Some cocoa powder...

A little dash of salt...

Some vanilla powder...

And last but not least...

Cinnamon...

Next is the fun part... we're going to mix everything with our hands.

Everyone can get involved and have fun...

Including the kids...

Now we are going to roll our cookies into bite-sized pieces...

And then we are going to place it into our lined baking dish...

Once you are done rolling your cookies...

You can serve them immediately... or keep them in the refrigerator for up to a week.
